

Newsletter

March 2021

www.speculativeliterature.org * Twitter: @specilit

www.facebook.com/speculativeliterature

www.instagram.com/specilitfoundation/

SLF - SFBA

The Speculative Literature Foundation - Bay Area chapter will host "What Publishing Professionals Wish First-Time Authors Knew," a panel including a book publisher, multiple award-winning editors and writers, a children's book author, a reviewer, a bookstore manager, and a bookseller.

Panelists Jacob Weisman, Angela Dalton, Arley Sorg, and Ann Seaton will be moderated by your SLF-Bay Area organizers: Jasmine T. Wade, Rebecca Gomez Farrell, and Audrey T. Williams.

The panel will take place on Sunday, March 21st at 4pm PST. This event will be hosted as a Zoom webinar, and the link to join will be shared the day of the event. Interested folks can RSVP via our Eventbrite invitation or Facebook group.

SLF - CHICAGO

The Chicago Chapter will be hosting monthly co-writing sessions every 3rd Sunday from 11am-4pm CT.

The next sessions take place virtually on March 21 via Zoom.

PODCAST LAUNCH!

Stay tuned for the latest branch of the Portolan Project, our podcast entitled Mohanraj and Rosenbaum Are Humans. Listen in about science fiction, fantasy, writing, publishing, community, culture, and what it means to be human. The podcast launches on March 22, 2021 and will be available on platforms including Spotify, Apple Podcasts and YouTube, and our website!

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Have something about to be published? Want to share? Submit your request for consideration!

JOIN AND SUPPORT

Memberships and donations help SLF carry out its goals to promote literary quality in speculative fiction by encouraging promising new writers, assisting established writers, facilitating the work of quality magazines and presses in the genre, and developing greater public appreciation of speculative fiction. Your contribution is tax deductible as permitted under the law.

The SLF is partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council Agency