FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Intro to Writing Speculative Fiction Course

June 2023 – The Speculative Literature Foundation is holding an Intro to Writing Speculative Fiction course.

Intro to Writing Speculative Fiction will cover the essential elements of science fiction and fantasy stories and different approaches to using them. Instructor Eden Robins will include storytelling and idea-generating exercises and will help students develop the skills necessary for sustainable creative practice. Drafting, critiquing, and networking will also be covered.

This course will comprise five 2.5-hour sessions spanning August 2 to August 30, 2023, on Wednesdays from 6 to 8:30 PM CT. This class is fully remote and will be held on Zoom.

Those interested may register on the SLF site.

Launched in January 2004 to promote literary quality in speculative fiction, the Speculative Literature Foundation addresses historical inequities in access to literary opportunities for marginalized writers. Our staff and board are committed to representing racial, gender, and class diversity at all levels of our organization. This commitment is at the heart of what the Speculative Literature Foundation stands for: equal access to create and advance science fiction, fantasy, and horror literature. We strive to enable writers at any stage of their career and of any age, any ethnicity, any gender expression, from any location and of any economic or social status, who want to learn about, or create within, the speculative arts.

The SLF is a 501(c)3 non-profit, entirely supported by community donations. If you'd like to be involved with our efforts, please consider joining us as a member for $2/month, at speculativeliterature.org/membership.

The Speculative Literature Foundation is partially funded by a grant from the Oak Park Area Arts Council, Village of Oak Park, Illinois Arts Council, National Endowment for the Arts and Oak Park River Forest Community Foundation.
